BODY WORLDS Vital Field Trip Contest Voting Period Now Open

The voting period to select which lucky South Carolina school classroom will receive a free trip to the South Carolina State Museum exhibit of BODY WORLDS Vital is now open.

Teachers across the state registered in December to win free admission and transportation to/from the museum for their class via the museum's Facebook Field Trip Contest page at <http://www.facebook.com/scstatemuseum>.

Now Facebook voters will select the winning South Carolina class between Dec. 28 and Jan. 11. Each South Carolina State Museum Facebook fan may vote once per day during this voting period. The winning class will then receive free admission and bus travel to and from the State Museum during the spring semester, up to a value of $1,000.

Voters simply go to the State Museum's Facebook page at <http://www.facebook.com/scstatemuseum>, click on the Field Trip Contest tab and select the "View Entries" tab to cast your ballot.

BODY WORLDS Vital is the largest exhibition ever presented by the State Museum. The exhibit opened November 13 and runs through April 15, 2012 with 6,500 square feet of real human bodies, organs and systems assembled to teach guests how best to take care of their bodies and live longer, healthier and happier lives.

BODY WORLDS Vital is open to the public in the State Museum's Blockbuster Gallery. Admission is $11 for adults, $9 for senior citizens and $7 for ages 3-12, in addition to general museum admission. South Carolina students in groups are admitted for $5. Tickets can be purchased, and information can be found, on the Museum's Web site: <http://www.scmuseum.org>.
